Edward Paster

Edward Paster served as a frequently called upon role model of leadership for the next generation. He is remembered as a mentor to many in the shopping center development and management business, Jewish Community and countless civic organizations. He and his family were dedicated to, and longtime supporters of multiple charities including the St. Paul Jewish Federation, JCRC, Sholom, and the Ronald McDonald House. Edward served as an emissary to Jewish communities around the world including Russia, Cuba, Egypt and Israel. Edward Paster was a true pillar of Temple of Aaron and the greater community.

Richard Shaller

Richard “Dick” Shaller was a well-respected and thoughtful leader in the retail automotive industry, Jewish Community, and the community at large. He gave his time and guidance creating strong relationships while sharing his business acumen with boards and committees at Temple of Aaron, Sholom, Jewish Federation of Greater St. Paul, and Talmud Torah. He also had a passion for helping young students who were studying at the Temple of Aaron, and along with his wife Rossy, helped establish the Rossy and Richard Shaller Hebrew School. Dick Shaller worked tirelessly to ensure that this community went from strength to strength and he left an indelible impact in the process.

REMEMBERING EDWARD JACOB PASTER

Our dear cousin Edward was a righteous man. He was proud of his Jewish heritage and embraced the Ten Commandments and lived by the Golden Rule. As an observant Jew, he davened every day with tallis and tefillin.

Edward’s dedication to family is legend. He was devoted to his mother and adored his wife, children and grandchildren. This commitment was unflinching.

Edward was passionate and compassionate giving of himself and his wealth. Over the years, he modestly performed innumerable acts of quiet charity; and his public philanthropy is evident in every noble cause and at Jewish institutions including our Temple of Aaron, the Sholom Home, the JCC, the Talmud Torah and the ritual Mikvah.

Edward was resolute in his concern for the Jewish condition around the world. He was an active participant in the Jewish Community Relations Council and the Saint Paul Federation. As a leader, he traveled extensively to personally observe and support Jewish communities throughout the world.

Edward was a dreamer who knew how to carry out his dreams. His creative genius was reflected as a shopping center developer who was able to bring to reality the aspirations of his tenants.

Edward was young at heart as exemplified in Jimmy Durante’s signature song:

“Fairy tales can come true; it can happen to you,
if you’re young at heart.
For it’s hard you will find to be narrow of mind
if you’re young at heart.”

Edward’s communication skills can best be described as a Jewish Garrison Keillor. Edward had the ability to take a cute humorous story and convert into a hysterically animated sequential belly laugh performance. His reward was to see and hear the good fellowship of his audience.

Edward’s memory is fondly remembered by his cousins –
May his memory be for a blessing.

"Look at these grand men. Which one of you wouldn't consider it the highlight of his career to associate with them for even one day?"

--Lou Gehrig

It is the greatest of honors for both of us to have known, worked alongside and learned from Edward Paster and Dick Shaller. We have had the pleasure to work with them on matters of philanthropy, community, leadership and teamwork. In every endeavor we all took copious notes in preparation for the day when it would be "our" collective turn to take the reins of leadership.

Thank you for joining us in celebrating the lives of these two extraordinarily generous men tonight. We are grateful to the Paster and Shaller families for sharing Edward and Dick with us, with the Temple of Aaron and with our community.

Among great men there are some that lead and some that follow. Our special thanks to Edward Paster and Dick Shaller whose leadership has allowed so many of us to learn, to follow and apply what we have learned as we now try to fill their enormous shoes.

With great appreciation,

Dear Friends,

On behalf of the Executive Board of Temple of Aaron I want to thank the Paster and Shaller families for allowing us to remember two amazing and generous leaders of our community. Both Edward and Dick were pillars of Temple of Aaron, the St. Paul community, and beyond. Tonight we honor their memories and the legacy they leave by coming together as a community to remember what they did and how we can learn from their shining example.

While these two men had different life stories, they each gave of themselves and what they had to make things better for those around them. They were givers to the Jewish community in the Twin Cities and this event allows us to recognize and celebrate their legacy.

We now continue to strive toward the future with the lessons they taught us through the examples they set. Great leaders are not just seen through what they do but what they leave behind. In that case these men left a legacy to last forever.

May their lives and memory always be for a blessing!

Dear Evening Participants,

As we gather this evening to honor two impactful and inspiring leaders in the Twin Cities Jewish community, we have the opportunity to reflect on the nature of leadership.

Edward Paster and Dick Shaller each demonstrated lasting leadership by laying the foundation for an engaged and expanded Jewish Community. They made commitments to build institutions that reach and inspire individuals, they supported the deep variety of organizations in the community, and they inspired people of all ages to join them in these efforts. While men of different personalities, they share these essential skills and qualities, and we are delighted to salute them.

The best way we can honor them is by emulating their values. Just as they gave generously to the community, so must we; just as they connected with a variety of institutions, so must we; and just as they instilled these values in future generations; so must we.

Tonight is about joining together to strengthen the Temple of Aaron and the entire St. Paul Jewish Community.

Thank you for doing your part,
Rabbi Alan Shavit-Lonstein

Dear Temple of Aaron,

When our liturgy speaks of our Fathers or Patriarchs it often comes across with the phrase, “Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.” This is most commonly seen in the Amidah which is the most crucial time of prayer in the siddur. Although once in our siddur, within the end blessings of the weekday Shacharit service the order is changed to “Abraham, Isaac, and Yisrael.” The change in Jacob’s name from Jacob to Yisrael happens in Bresheit (Genesis) but is rarely seen alongside Abraham and Isaac except in 1 Chronicles 29:18.

Why does God change Jacob’s name from Jacob to Yisrael? Rashi comments that this change happened because no longer had Jacob received his name through insinuation but rather through prevailing. Israel means “one who prevails with God.” It is Jacob’s leadership that forces us to think to ourselves; are we doing enough for our community?

Tonight we celebrate two fantastic examples of men, who like Jacob, never stopped supporting their communities. It is their families’ efforts that have ensured that their legacy and pride in the Temple of Aaron and Twin Cities will continue long into the future. We gather together to honor the lives and visions of Edward Paster and Dick Shaller. They were truly both the Jacobs of their time, because they carried on the work of our biblical patriarchs ensuring the Jewish future.

We welcome you all to a wonderful night of celebrating two great trendsetters in our community. We thank you all for your support in making this night a smashing success. Thank you to our co-chairs Lisa Lane and Michael Saxon. Thank you to their committee for their tireless work. Thank you to our special guest, Jason Alexander, for joining us. Thank you to the Paster and Shaller families for such a wonderful evening and carrying on their loved one’s legacies. And most importantly thank you to both Edward and Dick for helping us see the importance of prevailing with God.

Enjoy the evening!
